

JARON CHIDIAC

BIO

Theatre kid turned folk-rocker, Jaron Chidiac, is gearing up to take the West Coast folk scene by storm. His classically trained, soul-drenched voice is a melodic force of nature, gliding effortlessly between poetic and gentle with a storm of rasp.

The songs themselves are impressive compositions supplementing Jaron's powerhouse vocal performances. For just a man and his guitar, he encompasses the unique capacity to fill the space in your ears and soul. With his band, Belcarra, Jaron has recorded an EP, toured and became finalists in the Best In Vancouver, performing alongside the likes of Hey Ocean and The Brevet.

Jaron recently recorded his first solo EP at Vancouver's legendary Warehouse Studios. His first single, Sunwolf, was released in October 2019, with the rest of the EP coming in 2020. Keep an eye out for this Canadiana songbird as he will soon be imprinting you with his ferocious talent.
